

Lab 2

This assignment focuses on the requirements gathering process for fictitious travel services company, "Spring Breaks 'R' Us Travel Service". Perform the following activities as part of the assignment:

- Read the case overview at the end of Chapter 2 in the textbook. This is the same description you read for the vision document.
- You should use the questions 1 - 6 to guide you. Your document should look like a business document with headings for stakeholders, functional requirements, usability requirements, reliability and performance requirements, security requirements, and sample interview questions. Please use tables, bullet lists, numbered lists, etc. to present your information. There should be transition sentence(s) for each section. This will give your document good flow and readability. It may be helpful to search for requirements documents online to find a good template or example to base your format on. You can build on this template for the other assignments in the course.
